

Victor Ferguson is a PhD Candidate in the Australian National University's School of Politics and International Relations and a member of the ANU College of Asia and the Pacific's Working Group on Geoeconomics. He holds bachelors degrees in both Law (Hons 1) and International Relations (Hons 1) from the ANU, where he received the 2016 L. F. Crisp Memorial Prize. His research concentrates on the intersection of international economic law, economic statecraft and security policy in contemporary East Asia.