

Ronan Tse-min Fu is a Ph.D. candidate and Sherman Fellow in Political Science and International Relations at the University of Southern California. His research interests are international relations theory, East Asian security, Chinese foreign policy, U.S.-China strategic relations, and historical roots of contemporary relations in East Asia. His work is forthcoming or published in International Security, International Studies Quarterly, Journal of Conflict Resolution, and Political Geography. His work has been externally supported by the Ministry of Education of the Republic of China, Fulbright Taiwan, and the Chiang Ching-kuo Foundation for International Scholarly Exchange, among others.